First Reading

Isaiah 40:21-31

L: The Word of the Lord.

C: Thanks be to God.

The Psalmody for the Day (read responsively)

Psalm 147:1-11

¹ Praise the Lord! For it is good to sing praises to our God;

for it is pleasant, and a song of praise is fitting.

² The Lord builds up Jerusalem; He gathers the outcasts of Israel.

³ He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.

⁴ He determines the number of the stars; He gives to all of them their names.

⁵ Great is our Lord, and abundant in power; His understanding is beyond measure.

⁶ The Lord lifts up the humble; He casts the wicked to the ground.

⁷ Sing to the Lord with thanksgiving; make melody to our God on the lyre!

⁸ He covers the heavens with clouds; He prepares rain for the earth; He makes grass grow on the hills.

⁹ He gives to the beasts their food, and to the young ravens that cry.

¹⁰ His delight is not in the strength of the horse, nor His pleasure in the legs of a man,

¹¹ but the Lord takes pleasure in those who fear Him, in those who hope in His steadfast love.

L: The Word of the Lord.

C: Thanks be to God.

Sermon

Rev. Robert B. Grewe

*The Hymn of the Day

On Eagles Wings

(ELW) No. 787

*The Nicene Creed

I believe in one God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and earth, of all that is, seen and unseen.

I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, of one Being with the Father. Through Him all things were made. For us and for our salvation He came down from heaven; by the power of the Holy Spirit He became incarnate from the virgin Mary, and was made man. For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate; He suffered death and was buried. On the third day He rose again in accordance with the Scriptures; He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son. With the Father and the Son He is worshiped and glorified. He has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. I acknowledge one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins. I look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen

You are welcome to use the nursery for the entire service, or just a small part.

The Flower Chart for 2024 is posted in the narthex. If you wish to place flowers, (real or artificial) near the altar, sign your name opposite the date of your choice. You will be reminded of your date and asked for the wording you want in the bulletin two weeks before the due date.

Weekly Devotional

Fifth Sunday after the Epiphany—February 4, 2024

“Now Simon's mother-in-law lay ill with a fever, and immediately they told him about her. And he came and took her by the hand and lifted her up, and the fever left her, and she began to serve them.”

- Mark 1:30-31 -

Stay-at-home moms know what it is like to get lost in the crowd. Their lives revolve around their children; their identity is so connected to their kids that at times even their names are lost. They are usually known only as Mom or Mommy or Mother. These moms don't mind; they feel blessed to be so active participating and available in their children's lives. But no matter how much a stay-at-home mom loves being with her children, most have moments when they feel like they have no purpose. Oh, they know that raising children is the most important job a woman can do, but they all have gifts and abilities that deserve recognition. They feel like a nobody, a no name, an invisible person in the world.

There is comfort in today's story from Mark for all those stay-at-home moms. Here we see Jesus ministering to an unnamed woman in her home. He goes everywhere, even to the places where the invisible people reside. In the story just before this one in Mark, Jesus healed a demon-possessed man after preaching and teaching the scriptures in the synagogue. He was seen and heard by many who were amazed at His authority over the word and the spirit. He was gaining notoriety and accomplishing great things. Yet, the public healing in the synagogue is followed by a private and intimate moment with the ill mother of a friend. Jesus touched her and she was made well. She wasn't healed for some great purpose, at least that she was aware of; she was healed so that she could continue to live out her God given vocation: serving those she loves.

She was a nobody, identified only as someone's mother. She was not being recognized as having tremendous gifts and abilities, and yet Jesus loved her so much that He took her hand, healed her and restored her to her place in her community, to her place in her home. He gave her the gift of life again, to do what she was meant to do. He does extraordinary things for ordinary people in ordinary places on ordinary days. Jesus can, and does, the same for all of us nobodies as we live our ordinary, yet valuable, lives in this world.
